Core Curriculum for Spiritual Education of Children and Junior Youth

Introduction

“Strain every nerve to acquire both inner and outer perfections, for the fruit of the human tree hath ever been and will ever be perfections both within and without. It is not desirable that a man be left without knowledge or skills, for he is then but a barren tree. Then, so much as capacity and capability allow, ye needs must deck the tree of being with fruits such as knowledge, wisdom, spiritual perception, and eloquent speech.”

BAHÁ'U'LLÁH, BAHÁ'Í EDUCATION

This brief quotation from the writings of Bahá'u'lláh inspires the learning model for the Core Curriculum. For the purposes of the Core Curriculum, these terms may be explained in the following way:

Knowledge

To become informed of the Sacred writings on a spiritual principle;

Wisdom

To gain deeper understanding of a spiritual principle;

Spiritual Perception

To reflect on the application of a spiritual principle learned;

Eloquent Speech

To articulate or demonstrate the spiritual principle learned.

This learning model engages the volition of the learner by appealing to varied capacities, capabilities, and interests.

The Bahá'í writings compiled in the book, Foundations for a Spiritual Education, guide the ongoing development of the curriculum. These writings outline the purpose, process, content, outcomes, and organizational principles for a spiritual education curriculum open to all.

The Content of the Curriculum

The source for the “strands” and themes in the curriculum is the Bahá'í sacred writings, referenced in Foundations for a Spiritual Education. The term “strand” provides the image of a combination of interrelated threads that, woven together, create a beautiful tapestry of spiritual education.

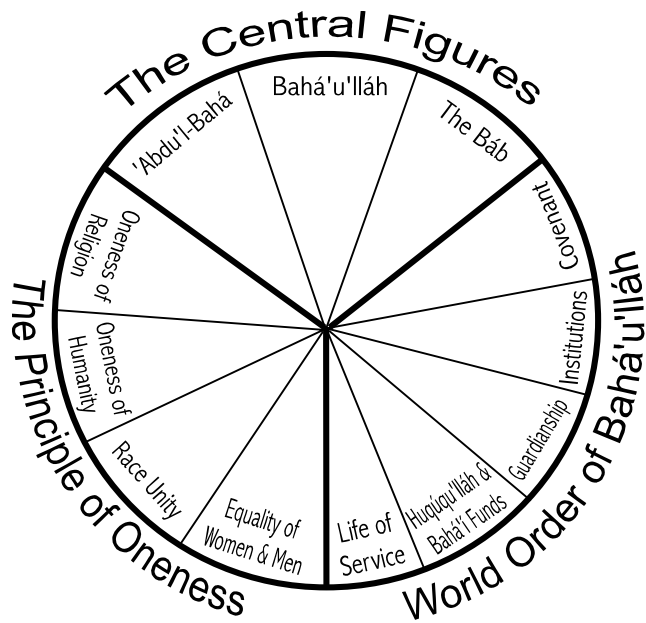

“That which is of paramount importance for the children, that which must precede all else, is to teach them the oneness of God and the Laws of God.”

BAHÁ'U'LLÁH, BAHÁ'Í EDUCATION

Following this exhortation of Bahá'u'lláh, the content of the Core Curriculum is organized into three strands, or major categories of study:

- The Central Figures of the Faith
- The Principle of Oneness
- The World Order of Bahá'u'lláh

Themes of Study

Each strand has several themes:

The Central Figures includes “The Báb,” “Bahá’u’lláh,” and “‘Abdu’l-Bahá.”

The Principle of Oneness includes “Oneness of Religion,” “Oneness of Humanity,” “Race Unity,” and “The Equality of Women and Men.”

The World Order of Bahá’u’lláh includes “The Covenant,” “The Institutions of the Faith,” “The Guardianship,” “Huqúqu’lláh and the Bahá’í Funds,” and “A Life of Service.”

Instructional Methods and Learning

Tools

A wide variety of Instructional Methods and Learning Tools are also described in the Bahá’í writings, including such diverse approaches to learning as individual study, group consultation, and use of all the arts and sciences. Within each theme, specific goals and topics systematically guide the learner to increasingly deeper levels of knowledge, understanding, spiritual insight, and action.

Lesson Planning Guides and Storybooks

An effective spiritual education process must not only systematically proceed through the entire curriculum, but also engage the hearts and minds of learners to result in active lives of service to God and humanity. These detailed Lesson Planning Guides provide teachers with learning objectives and fully-developed sample activities utilizing the arts, sciences, crafts, and other learning methods suggested in the writings of ‘Abdu’l-Bahá. A growing collection of illustrated children’s storybooks enhances the lessons being taught.

Training of Children’s Teachers

A system of careful training and hands-on practice supports teachers to become fully adept at using these materials to teach children and junior youth. The Core Curriculum Teacher Training Program systematically builds the skills to use Lesson Planning Guides and Core Curriculum Storybooks with children. The initial 32-hour training program includes:

- Module One: The Bahá’í Teacher ~ Station, Role, Qualities and Preparation
- Module Two: The Spiritual Reality of the Child
- Module Three: Teaching through Use of the Core Curriculum Strands
- Module Four: Beyond the Classroom ~ The Child Development Centered Community

Following this initial period of training, an ongoing series of Teacher Development Workshops assists teachers continue to develop their skills in classroom management; storytelling; attending to each student’s capacity, capability and interest; and provides additional practice adapting lessons to local circumstances.

We warmly invite you to participate in ongoing spiritual education and training for yourself, the teacher.

An Integrated and Comprehensive Community Approach

The spiritual education of children and junior youth includes an active role for teachers, parents, institutions, and every member of the community. Core Curriculum Training Programs encourage communities to invest their time and resources in the spiritual education of children and junior youth, described by the Universal House of Justice as “the most precious treasure a community can possess.”

In addition to providing a spiritual education program for children and training for teachers, the Core Curriculum offers training for:

- youth empowerment
- parenting
- marriage and family life
- race unity
- equality of women and men
- and a sequence of courses addressing the fundamental verities of the Bahá'í Faith.

USING THIS LESSON PLANNING GUIDE

This Lesson Planning Guide provides a learning framework and detailed sample activities for the study of the pivotal principle of oneness. An overview of the entire content of the Core Curriculum is provided in the Core Curriculum Scope and Sequence, pages 162-165.

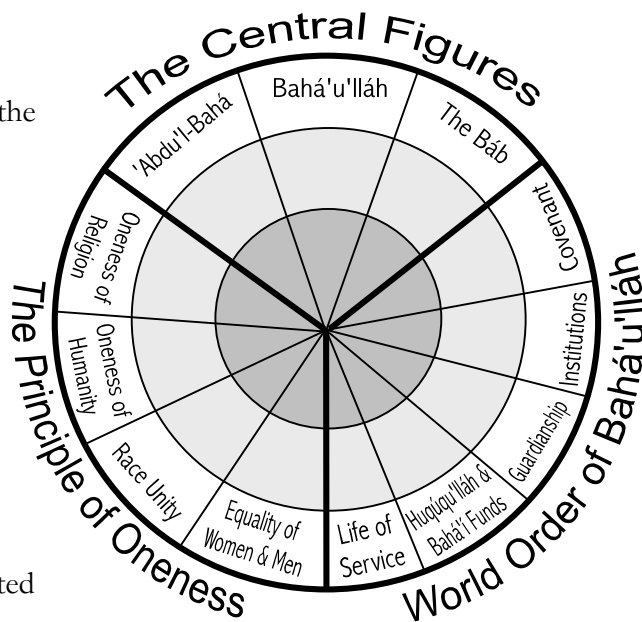

Three Levels of Study

The Core Curriculum provides three levels of study. All of the themes of study are organized into a nine-year sequential curriculum for children and junior youth, ages 6 to 14:

- Level One, for children aged 6-8,
- Level Two, for children 9-11,
- Level Three, for junior youth 12-14.

These three levels of study may be adapted to meet the needs of learners of all ages and varied backgrounds. In a growing community, this flexibility enables beginning learners to start with the concepts of Level One, using age-appropriate activities.

The spiritual education of each learner is carefully documented in a comprehensive Spiritual Education Plan.

Structure and Organization

This lesson planning guide includes the Themes, Goals and Topics for The Principle of Oneness – Level One.

Major Themes

- The Core Curriculum strand for The Principle of Oneness includes four major themes: “Oneness of Religion,” “Oneness of Humanity,” “Race Unity,” and “Equality of Women and Men.”

Goals and Topics

- The Scope and Sequence of the Core Curriculum consists of a series of goals within each of the strands. These goals might be thought of as units of study.
- A number of topics are then suggested for each goal.
- The Table of Contents lists the goals and topics for The Principle of Oneness – Level One.

Learning Objectives and Learning Activities

- At the beginning of each topic in the lesson planning guide you will find a list of learning objectives for each component of the learning framework – Knowledge, Wisdom, Spiritual Perception, and Eloquent Speech.
- Objectives are followed by suggested learning activities.
- You may use these suggested activities when planning your lessons, or create additional activities using the Core Curriculum Instructional Methods and Learning Tools listed in the Appendix, pages 159-161. (For more information about Instructional Methods and Learning Tools, see Foundations for a Spiritual Education, pages 152-168.)

Sample Activities

- Following the listing of Objectives and Suggested Activities, you will find a series of sample activities created by experienced teachers of the Core Curriculum.
- Each activity is designed to achieve one or more learning objectives.
- Activities are designed to use a variety of Instructional Methods and Learning Tools, to address the varied capacities and capabilities of diverse learners.
- A lesson may consist of only a few, or many activities, depending on the time available for your classes and the capabilities of your students.
- A complete set of lessons for any topic includes activities that address objectives from all four components of the Core Curriculum Learning Framework – Knowledge, Wisdom, Spiritual Perception, and Eloquent Speech.
- Using the Lesson Planning Template located in the Appendix, pages 156-158, you can create lessons that will engage the interest, curiosity, and attention of your students, increase their knowledge, and build their skills of service.

Additional Resources

- At the end of each topic in this guide you will find a list of additional published resources that relate to that topic. In some cases stories, pictures, or other materials have been included for your convenience.

Appendix

- At the end of this Lesson Planning Guide is an appendix, containing a Lesson Planning Template, a Checklist of Instructional Methods and Learning Tools, the Core Curriculum Scope and Sequence, reference information and sources for additional information and training opportunities.

We encourage you to include activities within your lessons to address all four components of the learning model. When all four components of the learning model are addressed, students internalize their knowledge and are able to translate their understanding into action.

Through the lessons you create, learners contribute their part to building the Kingdom of God on earth. “...the little children must needs be aware in their very heart and soul that Bahá’í is not just a name but a truth. Every child must be trained in the things of the spirit, so that he may embody all the virtues and become a source of glory to the Cause of God. Otherwise, the mere word ‘Bahá’í’, if it yield no fruit will come to nothing.”

~ ‘Abdu’l-Bahá
